Round-the-Lake Challenge Sun Moon Lake Bikeway

The distance around the lake is 30 kilometers. However, all it takes is an average level of fitness and half a day to complete. In 2012, the Sun Moon Lake Bikeway was voted among the world's top 10 most breathtaking cycling paths on the CNNGO Website. It provides the opportunity to see Sun Moon Lake's beauty up close. Riding a bicycle is the easiest and most pleasant way to explore Sun Moon Lake.

Cycling Path Above the Water

The most beautiful part of the Sun Moon Lake Bikeway is the cycling path above the water! This path stretches several hundred meters over the water with views of the Hanbi Peninsula and Cien Pagoda, and can be enjoyed on bicycle or on foot. Take this opportunity to come close to the water.

Cycling Safety Tips

Sun Moon Lake offers gorgeous lake and mountain views and comprehensive bikeways. Every year, the number of people cycling here increases. Therefore, safety is of utmost importance. Before starting out, make sure to read safety information and be observant of the people cycling with you. When possible, seek needed information in advance.

- Xiangshan Section
 - The Shuishe Dam Section is covered in wooden planks. Bike riding is prohibited along this section. Please walk your bike.
 - The Yongjie and Tongxin bridges section has slopes and bends. Please reduce your speed or walk your bike.
- Yuetan Section
 - On both sides of 4K + 700 (Taipower control gate) are slopes. Please reduce your speed or walk your bike.
 - Along both sides of the Boshan Ridge section are slopes and bends. Please reduce your speed or walk your bike.
- Cyclists should yield to pedestrians. Sections of the bikeway are along roadways. Obey traffic laws, signs, and signals, and pay attention to your safety.
- Prepare all necessary equipment for riding, such as helmet and gloves. Before starting out, make sure to adjust your bicycle for optimal comfort.

Taiwan-Japan Cycling Exchanges

In 2014, a sister bikeway agreement was completed between the Sun Moon Lake Bikeway and Japan's Shimanami Kaido bike route. Then, in 2018, agreements were signed with Hokkaido's Lake Mashu and Tsurui Village tourism associations to work together to promote tourism opportunities to those who love cycling and nature.

Cycling Along a River, Listening to the Wind Shuili and Checheng Bikeways

The lumber industry once flourished in Shuili, leaving behind colorful historic and cultural sites. The Shuili Bikeway follows the Shuili River, starting from Shuiyun Bridge and ending in Checheng. Along the way are the Jugong Power Station, scenic views of the river and mountains, and Checheng Old Street. Listen to the singing of the waters and the call of the wind, as you enjoy tranquil moments along a riverbank.
